Our Mission

SUPPORTING PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES IN ENHANCING THEIR QUALITY OF LIFE.

"The past year has been another year of challenges. The continued pandemic, the national staffing challenges all businesses have faced, has left us all stressed. Through it all our amazing staff, those we serve, along with our community partners, have all remained positive and excited to diligently focus on our mission of "supporting persons with disabilities in enhancing their quality of life".

Together with your amazing support we move into a new year filled with optimism for what we will accomplish in the future."

Josh Kendrick
CEO

"I've been on the Board of Directors of ORI for many years. I think it is safe to say that the last couple years have been the most challenging and the most rewarding. The Board is very proud of the ORI Family, our Leadership Team, our Staff and our Clients, and the way we follow our Corporate Mission. We fought the same pandemic issues, financial difficulties and staff crisis as the rest of the country, but we came out of it stronger. We adapted to make the changes necessary."

-Tom Stocking, Board President

Artists of Opportunity

Artists of Opportunity is excited to welcome a new Art Program Manager, bringing fresh ideas and opportunities for creative expression through pottery and several art forms including: chalk art, painting, drawing, digital art and much more!

Residential Services

ORI Residential staff continued to support clients to maintain safe, healthy homes. Staff assisted with everything from basic needs such as eating, bathing, cooking and medication assistance to shopping for groceries and essentials. Contact with family, friends and their care team continued through the use of iPads, but also began having direct contact since the slow of COVID continued.

Choices Program

Choices program is starting to schedule trips for our clients once again. In the last few weeks of the summer of 2022, we have visited the Sweet Palace in Phillipsburg, the fish hatchery in Arlee and the Museum of the Rockies in Bozeman. It is great to be getting out again!

Wood Products

Wood Products continues to excel at providing high grade wood products to our customers while navigating turbulent markets. In addition, Wood Products provides meaningful vocational training, education and work skills development that prepare people for a specific job, trade, craft, or profession in our community. Recently 6 individuals have developed skill sets allowing them to move on to work opportunities outside of Wood Products.

EmployAbilities

In our continued pursuit of community based, person centered services, we are excited to announce the addition of an Employment Consultant position to help people find jobs in Missoula and surrounding communities. Not only will this help the people we serve but will also have a positive impact on employers by providing them with an excellent workforce.

Specialized Services

Some say that normal is boring, the Special Services Program disagrees. We couldn't be happier that 2022 brought back some normal. Because that means, trips to the movies, mining for sapphires, lake trips, fishing, concerts at the Wilma, trips, Griz games and family and friends. We love normal and are looking forward to adding more activities and experiences for our clients. We are so excited to get back to normal.
